A glowing unicorn with a bright yellow and orange mane and tail is running through a dark forest at night. The unicorn's body is a vibrant blue. In the background, a rainbow arches across the sky, and a bright, multi-pointed star shines in the upper left. The ground is dark and reflective, showing the unicorn's legs and the surrounding trees.

INTRODUCTION

I was speaking at the start of an online healing classes a few years ago when a gentle voice came into my head:

"Let them know we're here and that we'd like to help with this healing."

I immediately sensed the unicorns, who I loved working with behind the scenes in my healing business but had never gone public about. Even after training as a Unicorn Light Practitioner years before, and although I was happy to talk about angels, goddesses and ascended masters, I had stayed firmly in the unicorn closet. So, rather than responding with, "Yes, of course, I'm so honoured you're here," (which would have been the polite way to accept the assistance of high-vibrational beings) I balked at the prospect of letting my audience know a unicorn was asking to join the party.

I continued talking out loud to my class, whilst I had a chat with the unicorns in my head. It was just one of many moments in my career as a healer when I wondered if I had completely lost it.

At that time, angels, guides and other beings were widely accepted, but communicating with unicorns was still viewed as being on the woo-woo side of spirituality. I was concerned about what my audience would think of me and felt really uncomfortable about unexpectedly introducing unicorns into one of my healing classes. I prided myself on being a powerful healer (hello ego) and even though I had had powerful personal experiences with the unicorns, I was worried I would be labelled as a fluffy, head-in-the-clouds hippy. The unicorns continued to insist and I continued to resist.

"Let them know we're here."

"No!" I silently thought back at them as I continued the online presentation.

"Let them know we can help."

"I can't do it!"

"Let them know, now."

I could tell their hooves were dug in on this, so I relented and took a deep breath. I let my audience know the unicorns were present and were going to be a part of the class. The world didn't end. My listeners didn't hang up. Nobody accused me of being a flaky hippy. No one asked for a refund.

Instead, the unicorns helped the participants experience a profound healing that shifted some incredibly deep blocks and past-life wounds from their hearts. Everybody loved it. They were thrilled to have had an experience with these magical beings.

My inner-unicorn-doubter was silenced for life and I stepped out of the unicorn closet with a flourish of glitter and rainbows. I went on to hold special unicorn healing classes and the unicorns would regularly show up in private sessions. One of my best-selling classes is still Unicorn Magic.

As I have worked with these majestic, loving beings, I have encountered magical white unicorns, sweet baby unicorns, radiant golden unicorns, powerful black unicorns, passionate fire unicorns, and of course the magnificent winged horses and winged unicorns.

I was eager for them to be represented with their full spectrum of energy in a way that would help more people connect with them on a deep spiritual level. It is my absolute delight and honour to share the Oracle of the Unicorns with you and to help showcase some absolutely breath-taking unicorn art that I know you will love as much as I do.

It is my sincere wish that these cards help you forge a deeper connection with the unicorns and prompt you to understand what powerful allies they can be on your journey back to magic, power and light.

—Cordelia

P.S. Yes, I know this should be called 'Oracle of the Unicorns, Winged Unicorns and Winged Horses with a Guest Appearance by a Cute Fairy Pony' but there's only so much space on the cover of an oracle deck. So, Oracle of the Unicorns it is.

About the Unicorns

What does your own knowing tell you about the unicorns? Put aside anything you've ever read about them and ask your heart what you believe to be true about them. What do you feel they are here to help you with? Take a few minutes to tune in and find your own truth before reading any further.

That was actually a very unicorn way to start connecting with this deck. My own truth is that the unicorns are incredibly powerful, high-vibrational beings of light who encourage us to stand in self-mastery and live to our highest potential. The unicorns want us to empower ourselves and find out what we're really made of. They want us to discover how much magic we have inside us, how we are powerful creators of our reality, how we have the entire Universe at our service and that we are capable of conjuring miracles and moving mountains.

The unicorns remind us of our intuitive abilities, our wisdom, our spiritual gifts, our courage, our divine potential and, for some people, our soul's calling to lead the way into the new paradigm. They encourage us to live with unbridled joy, love, peace and prosperity, doing what we most love. They hold us in unconditional love and their presence is of the purest light.

Every time I meditate and imagine connecting eye to eye with my unicorns and sinking deep into those soft, brown eyes, my heart melts. When I'm tired or feel scared, I imagine climbing onto their backs and letting them carry me for a while. When I am resisting or wimping out on something, I ask them to help me find the courage to keep moving forward.

I have three personal unicorn guides. A beautiful mare called Thalaya was my first, then came a massive stallion called Warrior. A magical mare called Astara came in later. They represent love, power and magic, and each of them helps me in different situations. Just like guardian angels, you may have one or more personal unicorns with you to willingly and lovingly help you on your journey.

Calling in the Unicorns

The unicorns will happily come in and support anyone who expresses a sincere desire to connect with them and receive help stepping into their magic, light and power. It is my belief that unicorns love to help out with bigger-picture, soul-purpose issues in our lives.

If you need a parking spot or a new dress for that party on Saturday, the angels are experts when it comes to smoothing out our daily lives and are best called on for this. When you need guidance on taking steps towards your soul purpose, writing your spiritual book or releasing a block that is stopping you being in your power, the unicorns are a brilliant support team for this. They love to remind us of our own magic and rejoice when we reconnect with childlike wonder, start getting excited about infinite possibilities and believe whole-heartedly in miracles.

You can ask your unicorn guides to steer you back onto your path of magic whenever you veer off into doubt, unworthiness or feel judged for believing in the invisible realms. They want to see you shining your light, loving yourself, living from your magic and being a powerful force for good in this world. Plus, they will happily journey by your side, supporting you every step of the way.

Meet your Unicorn Guides and Bless your Deck

Free MP3 Meditation

You can meet with your own unicorn guides and learn their names in this special MP3 meditation I've created for users of this deck. This beautiful journey will help you call in and connect with your unicorn(s), learn their names, receive light from them, then guide you to bless and activate your cards so they are infused with your energy and the unicorns' magic.

I recommend listening to this MP3 before you use your cards for the first time. You can then repeat the meditation whenever you would like to recharge the energies in your deck. You may also use the self-guided meditation below.

Download the MP3 for free at www.oracleoftheunicorns.com/gift or scan the QR code above.

Self-Guided Meditation

Sit comfortably in a chair with your legs uncrossed and your Oracle of the Unicorns beside you. Close your eyes and take a few slow, deep breaths. Bring your awareness into your body and into this moment. Put aside anything troubling or worrying you. Let go of the need to figure anything out. Just breathe, and be.

Remind yourself that all is well. There is nothing to fear and nothing to fix. You are safe, you are loved and you are whole. Sink deeper and deeper into this moment. Let the chair take your weight as you relax and release any tension in your body.

Once you feel relaxed, bring your awareness to your heart chakra.

See your heart as a radiant sphere of golden-pink light. Go deeper into your heart and allow yourself to be held in softness and love. Bask in the stillness and peace of your heart.

From this place of calm, set a sincere intention to connect with your unicorn guides. Let them know you are ready to meet them and receive their assistance on the path back to your magic and power. Take a few minutes to breathe into this connection as you share your intentions for your life and purpose.

Still breathing slowly and deeply, see yourself in a beautiful meadow filled with wildflowers. Feel the sun warming your skin, the gentle breeze ruffling your hair and the soft grass beneath your feet. Open your heart to joy as you sense the magic in this special place.

See a team of beautiful unicorns appear before you, holding you in a circle of light. Take a few moments to appreciate their beauty and magic. Envision their rippling manes, their shimmering coats and their glittering horns of golden light.

One unicorn comes forward and stands before you, to hold you in the gaze of his/her soft, brown eyes. Feel them looking deeply, lovingly, into your soul. This is your unicorn guide. Greet them and thank them for being here with you.

Spend a few moments connecting eye to eye. You may feel drawn to wrap your arms around your unicorn's neck to connect heart to heart as well. You may ask your unicorn guide for his/her name and for any messages they have for you. Trust whatever you receive.

This beautiful being then lowers its horn over your heart. See the most radiant, golden light streaming into you. Feel it spiral deep into your heart chakra, flow into your body and soothe any fears or worries. Breathe slowly and deeply as any resistance you may have to moving forward in your divine purpose is released.

When you are ready, bring your awareness to the circle of unicorns around you. They begin to stream golden light from their horns to immerse you in waves of high-vibrational energy and love.

Feel this glowing light fill every part of you – from each tiny cell in your body, out into your aura and energy field. Imagine yourself filled with and held in this light. Trust that the unicorns know exactly what you need in this moment.

Remain bathed in their golden light for as long as you wish. Let the light bring you to a place of peace, softness and oneness. When the process feels complete, reconnect with your unicorn guide and ask him/her to journey by your side to guide you on your highest path.

Thank all of the unicorns for supporting you in fulfilling your divine potential, manifesting your dreams and living from your magic.

Gently bring your awareness back to your body and then back into the room. Take some deep breaths and slowly open your eyes.

Hold your deck and stream the golden light from your heart through your hands and into the cards. Imagine them filling with the pure energy you received from the unicorns. Hold the clear intention to receive guidance for the highest good from this deck. Acknowledge that you will trust and act upon the information given to you and that these cards will lead you to your highest path of magic, light and power. Set any other intentions that are important to you when working with your oracle.

Now, sort through the cards. As you touch each one, it will be infused with your energy and this blessing. Once the process is complete, you can enjoy your beautiful oracle deck, knowing it is infused with energy from the unicorns.

Caring for your Deck

To receive the most accurate guidance from your deck, it is helpful to infuse them with your energy and intention using either the MP3 or written meditation. When you are not using the cards, keep them wrapped in a silk cloth or special drawstring bag with a crystal placed on top. A piece of clear quartz or some spiral selenite (which resembles a unicorn's horn) are just two of the many crystals useful for clearing or cleansing your deck.

You can use your deck to read for yourself and/or for others. If you do choose to let others handle your oracle, be sure to place a cleansing crystal on top of the deck afterwards or imagine the unicorn light clearing other people's energy out of the cards so your connection with them stays strong. You could also listen to the Unicorn Deck Blessing again.

Using the Cards

Each time you use the cards, perform a shorter version of the blessing ceremony. Take a few moments to become quiet and connect energetically with the deck, then call in your circle of unicorns. See yourself filled with the unicorn light and drop your awareness down into your heart. Set an intention to receive clear guidance and ask your question.

For a daily reading, you may wish to ask one of the following:

“What do I need to know about today?”

“What do I need to focus on today?”

“What does today hold for me?”

Alternatively, you may wish to ask about one area of your life, such as career, money, love or health. You may have a specific situation that you would like guidance on, like a business opportunity, a particular person that's come into your life, a project you keep stalling on or an investment you're thinking of making. For a simple reading, you can phrase your question so that it is inviting a straight 'yes' or 'no' answer. For example:

“Is this the ideal job for me?”
“Will I be happy in this relationship?”

As well as indicating an affirmative or negative response, the unicorns may expand on the answer and give you more detail through the cards. To look deeper into a situation, ask open or more generalised questions, such as:

“What do I need to be or do in order to receive more money?”
“Am I ready for my divine partner?”

For this type of question, you may receive guidance on an inner shift you need to make before a physical outcome can occur. Trust that you will receive exactly what you need to know and be willing to use your intuition to interpret the answers that come to you.

As with any kind of oracle or intuitive readings, please use your discernment and take full responsibility for your decisions and actions. Oracle cards can point you in a certain direction, but it's also wise to tune into your own deeper knowing to back up the answers you receive and to interpret them.

Shuffling the Cards

Once you have asked your question and decided on a card spread (see below), gently shuffle the cards until you intuitively feel a nudge to stop. You can then draw your cards in one of three ways according to your personal preference:

1. Fan the cards out in your hand and pull out the card(s) you feel drawn to one by one.
2. Place the deck on a table and split the card pile in two. Place the bottom half on top of the other and draw your cards from the top of the pile.
3. As you are shuffling, you may feel guided to pick cards out of the deck. Some may pop up a little higher than the others or seem to be making their way into your hand.

If any cards leap out of the deck as you are shuffling, be sure to place these in your spread, as they are making themselves known to you for a reason.

Trust your Intuition

This booklet contains my descriptions and meanings for these cards. I encourage you to develop your own intuitive interpretations as well. In some instances, the imagery may present a slightly different meaning for you in relation to the question you've asked. Use my descriptions as a starting point, but also sit with the images and ask the unicorns for any specific messages they have for you. Use your interaction with the cards to develop your intuition and trust your inner guidance.

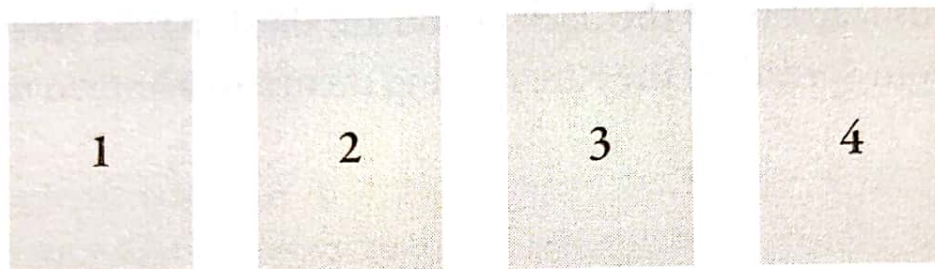

Suggested Unicorn Spreads

DAILY CARD/S

Simply pull out one to three cards as guidance for the day. You might want to leave the card/s out on your desk or altar to remind you of the unicorn's guidance.

THROUGH THE FOREST

This simple past-present-future reading will show you the path you've been on and where it's leading you now. Hold the intention of living true to your highest path. As you choose your cards, imagine you have been journeying through a forest and are coming out into the sunlight on the other side.

Card 1 – The Past: How your current situation was created.

Card 2 – The Present: What you are experiencing or need now.

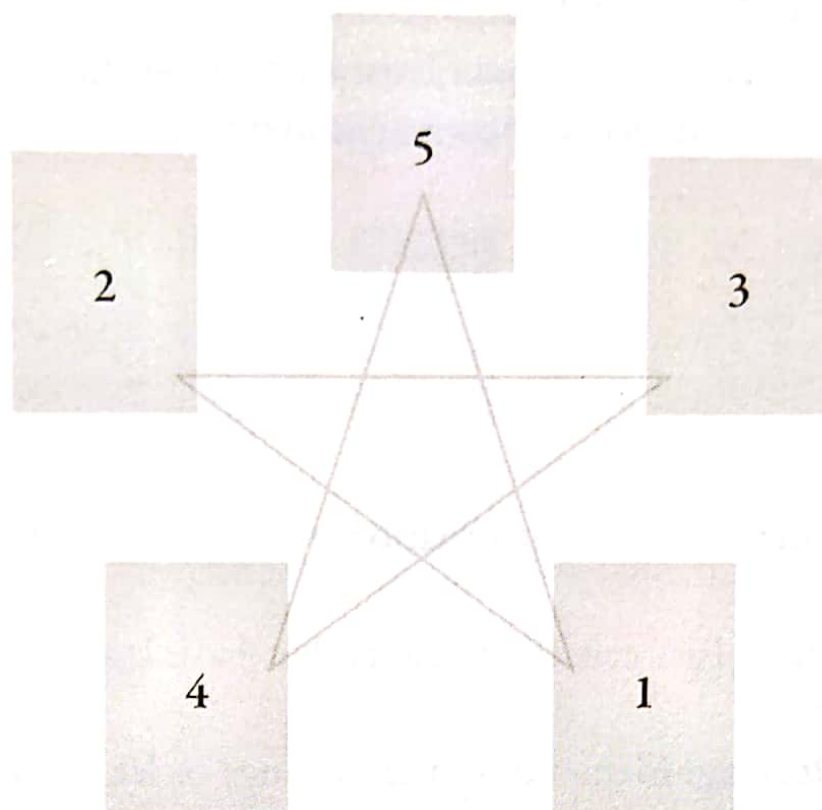

Card 3 – The Future: The most likely outcome based on your current energy and circumstances.

Card 4 – The Light: The potential and future possibility of this situation in relation to walking your true path.

THE ELEMENTAL STAR

This spread will help you identify the clearest path to creating the life of your dreams and understand what you may need to release or receive more of to get there.

Card 1 – Air: What do you dream of? How do you envision the life you want to create? What area do you most want change in?

Card 2 – Fire: What motivates you? What do you feel passionate about? Where does your life most need unsticking and recharging with powerful energy?

Card 3 – Earth: What grounded and aligned action can you take towards your dreams? What is stopping you from acting? What do you need to support you?

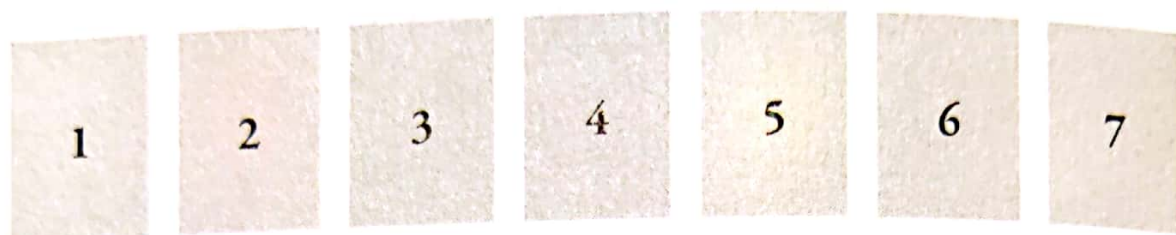

Card 4 – Water: What expectations or attachments do you need to let go of? What needs clearing from your path so you can flow into your dreams? What emotions or relationships are affecting your journey?

Card 5 – Spirit: This card reveals the bigger picture, the highest path you can take and the real gift that your dreams hold for you.

PATH TO MIRACLES SPREAD

This spread is helpful when you have a particular goal or dream in mind and want guidance on how to get there.

Card 1 – Now: Your present situation or the energy you are in right now.

Card 2 – Then: Past causes or events that have led to your current situation.

Card 3 – Healing: Elements you can change or let go of in order to move forward.

Card 4 – Challenge: Obstacles that may distract, hinder or otherwise complicate your progress.

Card 5 – Magic: The help, energy or allies you can call on to bring you closer to your dream.

Card 6 – Energy: The practical action or steps you can take towards your goal.

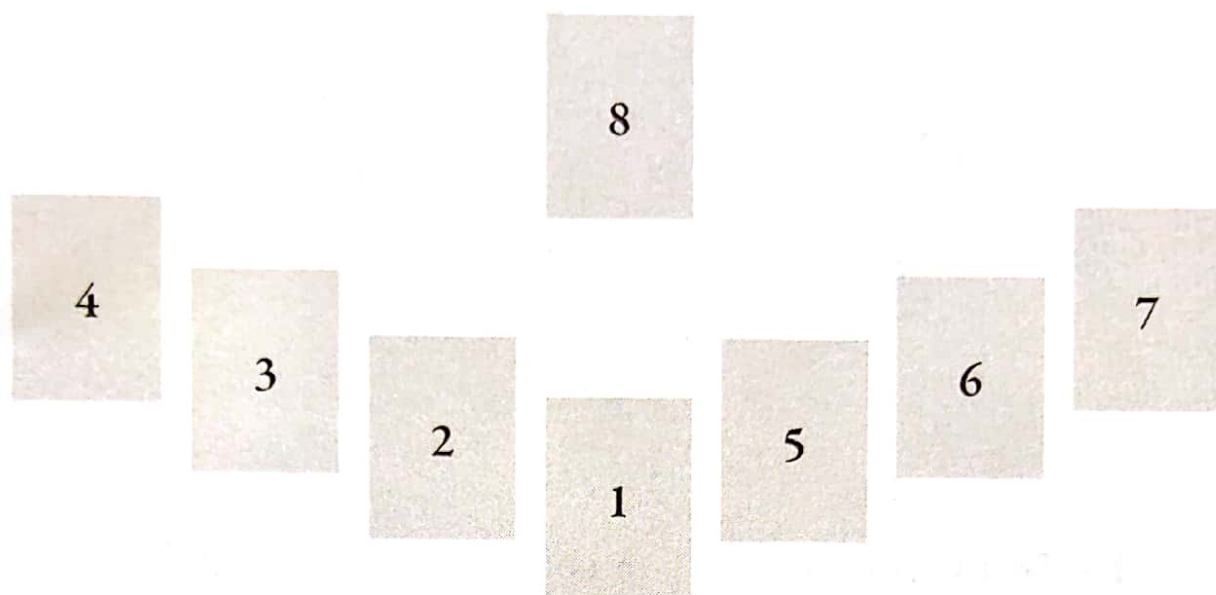

Card 7 – Miracle: The overall guidance you need to receive about your dream.

You can also use this 7-card layout for a weekly reading with each card representing a day and what it holds for the following week.

THE PEGASUS SPREAD

This spread is ideal to help you make a choice between two different paths. Shuffle your deck and draw the first card. Shuffle again while holding one of your choices in mind, then draw the three cards of the left wing and lay these cards out. Shuffle again with your other option in mind, then draw and layout the three cards of the right wing. Finally, shuffle once more and select the eighth and final card.

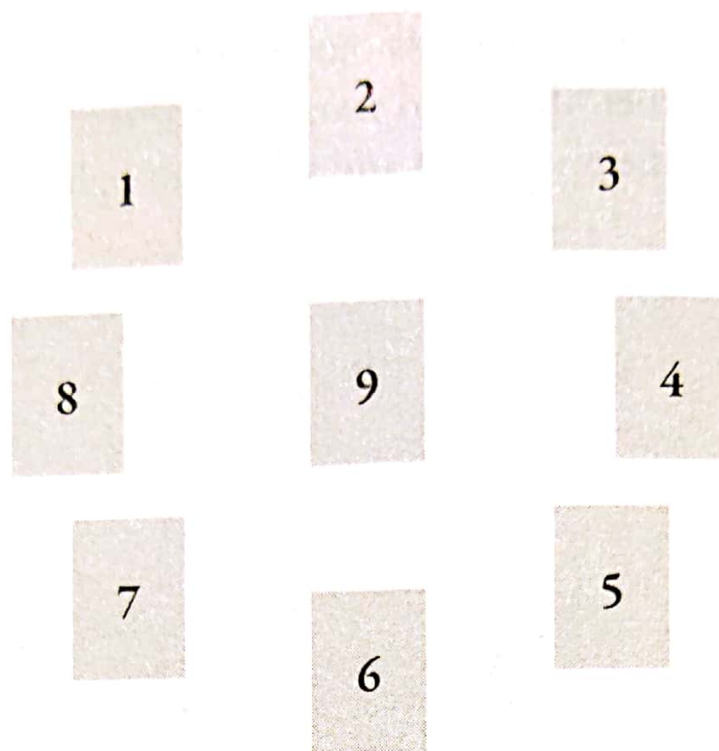

- Card 1 – Earth: Where you are now, as you weigh up these choices.
- Card 2 – Left Wing (Option A): The blessing of this path.
- Card 3 – Left Wing (Option A): The challenge of this path.
- Card 4 – Left Wing (Option A): The outcome of taking this path.
- Card 5 – Right Wing (Option B): The blessing of this path.
- Card 6 – Right Wing (Option B): The challenge of this path.
- Card 7 – Right Wing (Option B): The outcome of taking this path.
- Card 8 – Star: The overall insight into this decision.

UNICORN HORN SPREAD

This spiral layout represents the magical unicorn horn and is designed to help you better understand your purpose, potential and prosperity.

Card 1 – Truth: Your soul gifts and purpose in this lifetime.

Card 2 – Illusion: Elements that limit you from reaching your divine potential.

Card 3 – Fear: An area you have resistance to or a reluctance to face.

Card 4 – Wisdom: What you need to learn, heal or release before elevating higher into your power, joy and prosperity.

Card 5 – Courage: Overcome this obstacle in order to move forward.

Card 6 – Love: The support required to transcend obstacles or limitations on your journey.

Card 7 – Power: The emotions or mindset you need to embody in order to rise higher.

Card 8 – Faith: Your next step towards success.

Card 9 – Light: The result of fully owning your magic, using your soul gifts and fulfilling your highest potential.

Abundance

*Enjoy the bounty of life.
Your supply is unlimited.
Blessings are coming to you.*

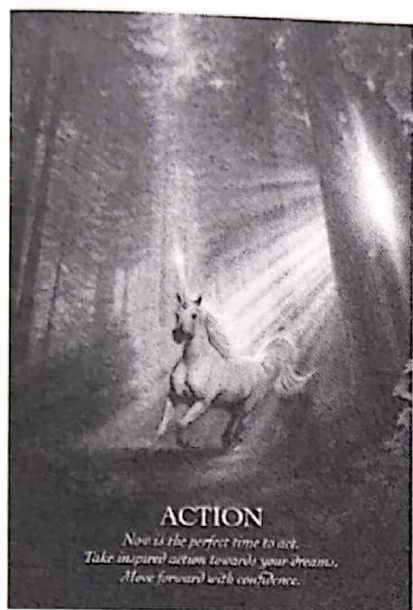

The unicorns bring you great blessings of abundance and invite you to open your arms wide to receive it all. They remind you that you live in a world of plenty. All of the prosperity you have ever dreamed of or desired is right here for you, now. The resources you ask for are here in energetic form, waiting for you to allow them to manifest in your world. Dare to believe, and be open to receiving in unexpected ways.

This rainbow unicorn calls on you to tear down the illusion of scarcity and know that you are an infinite being, receiving from an infinite source, in infinite ways. There is no such thing as 'too much' to the Universe. It is not greedy, selfish or unspiritual to want a prosperous life full of riches and blessings. You do not help anyone else to have more by blocking your flow and having less yourself.

The Universe is constantly expanding and creating, and waves of abundance are always flowing in your direction. When you are fully aligned with the Divine, your prosperity grows and flows unchecked too. You are of greater service to the world when you are living in a state of abundance, freedom and joy than when you are worrying about paying your bills. Live from this knowing today and let yourself receive.

Feel the joy and positive expectation that comes with knowing abundance of all kinds is already here and more is on its way. Raise your thoughts, feelings and energy into alignment with plenty, give thanks for your wealth in advance, take aligned action when guided to, and invite your bounty to pour in.

Action

*Now is the perfect time to act.
Take inspired action towards your dreams.
Move forward with confidence.*

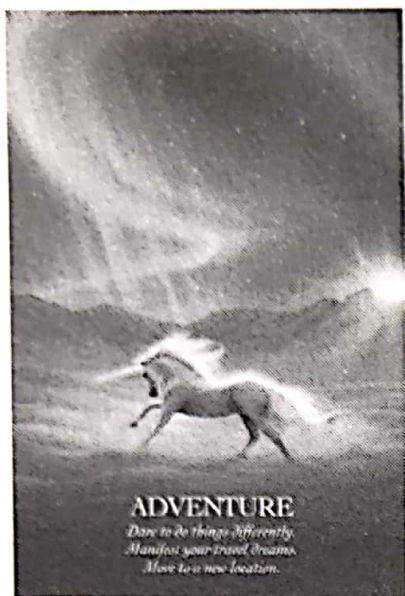

You have prepared, trained and done the inner work to be ready for this opportunity. The pieces are lined up. The timing is perfect. All that it requires is for you to take action.

Have unwavering belief in yourself and take the next steps. You already have everything within you that you need to do this. You may feel some resistance or hesitation, but this is not the time for doubt or procrastination. You are ready.

Listen to your courageous heart, not your fearful ego. Ignore any excuses about why you can't. Remember, you are powerful, capable and the entire Universe is on your side. Call on the unicorns to keep you moving forward and to remind you that on the other side of this action is the success you desire.

The unicorns are beside you, urging you forward, encouraging you to take action on your dreams without further delay.

Adventure

Dare to do things differently.

Manifest your travel dreams.

Move to a new location.

This unicorn is calling you to embark on an adventure, explore the world or enjoy new experiences. Maybe you dream of moving to another state or country to start afresh in a new landscape? Perhaps you are feeling bored and stifled, and know there is more to life than the rut you have been stuck in. Whether you fly to the other side of the world, move to a new city or simply get away for a weekend, it's time to go on a journey.

Release the belief that you need lots of money upfront before you can even start thinking about this. Ask the unicorns for help to bring in all of the resources and opportunities required to make your travel dream a reality.

Start researching your dream locations or homes now, as if you already have the funds, time and resources to support you. Believe anything is possible. You never know, you might come across a house-sitting opportunity, a house swap or an out-of-the-box answer to your travel dreams.

Give yourself permission to hold a big vision and enjoy the process of manifesting your journey.

Anger

Safely express your anger.

Use anger as a positive force.

Honour all of your emotions as sacred.

You may feel angry at yourself, another person or with a situation in your life, but feel it is somehow unspiritual to express your rage. This fire unicorn is charging in to assure you that anger is not a 'negative' energy. It has as much purpose and value as kindness or love.

Feeling or expressing anger is not unspiritual. It is sacred to honour your emotions and anger can be the fire you need to pull you out of a swamp of lethargy, hopelessness or doubt. Anger can be the force that helps you overcome fear and take action. It can be the surge of power you need to finally set a boundary and say no to someone or something that is disempowering you. Anger can also be the key to unlocking deeper fears and being free of the wounds that lie beneath them.

Anger is only dangerous when you repress or deny it. Just like a volcanic lava flow, if it builds up, it can be a destructive force when it finally erupts. This fire unicorn wants you to acknowledge your anger. Get to the heart of what is upsetting you and let yourself be angry. Feel it and revel in its messy beauty. Dance, stomp and roar from your anger. Pummel the cushions. Scream out all of your fury.

Give yourself permission to fully feel, unleash and release your anger. So long as you are not misdirecting your anger at anyone else it can be empowering. Use it to fill yourself with life force and to move forward out of denial and repression. There is wildness and beauty in your anger and it can be such a gift when you see it as sacred.

Awareness

Live in the moment.

Be conscious of your thoughts.

Look for signs and guidance.

The unicorns are calling you to live more fully in the present moment and be aware of the support you receive from your guides every day. Some of it is going unnoticed because your mind is keeping you distracted with worry, fear or doubt. You are trying to solve a challenge from a conscious level when the best solution will come from handing it over to the Divine.

This beautiful unicorn is inviting you to take the time to slow down, sit quietly in contemplation or meditation and allow your soul to take charge from your ego. Become aware of what your truth really is. All is well and everything is happening for a reason. Any situation can be resolved harmoniously and there is a perfect solution for every challenge.

This card is a reminder that all of your needs are met, you are safe, you are loved and you are protected. Breathe into this awareness and choose to feel peaceful, calm and relaxed. Trust in Source to take care of you, meet your needs and show you your next steps.

As you go about your day, be alert to any signs or messages that may be placed in your path. Stay in surrender and keep bringing yourself back into the present moment, for it is only here that you can ever feel truly at peace.

Balance

Take time to relax.

Indulge a little more, or less.

Set boundaries with your work.

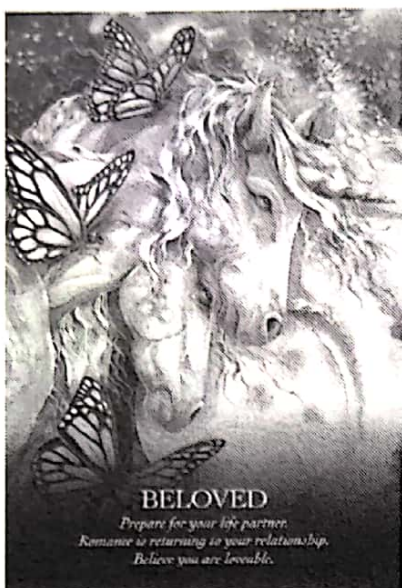

There is an area of imbalance in your life that needs addressing so you can lift yourself up into happiness and health. Moderation is the key to feeling good. This may relate to work, play, spending, saving, exercising, resting, being social or spending time alone.

If you've been working hard, staying up late to get things done, working at weekends or not taking breaks, then this is a call to set a better balance between work and personal time. If you have been following a strict diet and are feeling deprived, this card encourages you to relax a little and find healthier ways to treat yourself, without overdoing it. Equally, if you've been indulging a bit too much, it's time to take control and honour your body with healthier foods, exercise and rest.

In whichever area you need to create balance, be sure to look under the surface for any emotional causes for your behaviour. Often there can be a belief that needs releasing or a wound that needs healing before you can enjoy moderation and be more gentle with yourself.

When you find your own point of balance, you will feel happier, healthier and have the energy to get out and enjoy life even more.

Beloved

Prepare for your life partner.

Romance is returning to your relationship.

Believe you are loveable.

Your heart yearns to be reunited with your beloved and enjoy a blissful, sacred relationship together. Or, if you are already in a partnership, you may crave a deepening of romance and connection that may have been lost over time or through challenging circumstances.

This loving pair of unicorns want to reassure you that your joyful union or reconnection is coming soon, but there is some preparation to do.

To receive your divine partner or reconnect with your current love, you must first love yourself deeply and know that you are loveable. Be honest about how you judge or dishonour yourself, and then be willing to treat yourself with the love, care and nurture you want your beloved to hold you in.

If you long for a partner who cherishes you, first cherish yourself.

If you want to be with someone full of joy, be joyful yourself.

If you want to be respected, begin by treating yourself with respect.

Making these shifts may mean embarking on a healing journey back into wholeness. Be courageous in releasing the core wounds in your heart that keep you from feeling worthy. Be willing to forgive previous partners and surrender your stories of hurt and heartache. Readily transform old beliefs and programming around love, relationships, marriage and sex.

Be gentle with yourself (and your partner if you already have one), and know that each old wound or belief you release brings you closer to your beloved or opens your heart to greater love.

Allow romance to happen without hurrying it. Connect with your future love or current partner on a soul level, and send them energy from your heart. Let them know you are doing the inner work to be ready for them or to deepen your journey together, and share your dreams of the beautiful future you will have together.

Celebration

A positive outcome is assured.

Celebrate your success.

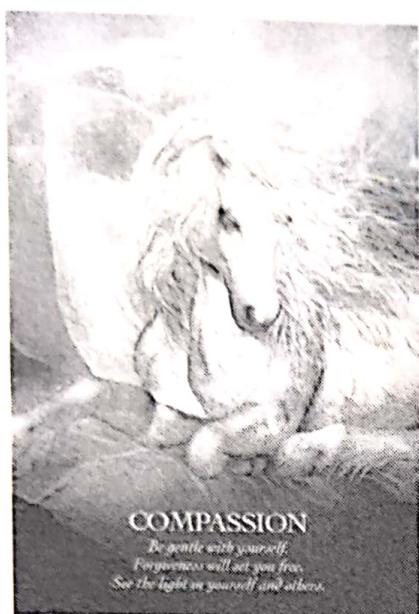

Enjoy your achievements.

It's time to celebrate! Your efforts have paid off and good things are on the way to you. This joyful winged unicorn invites you to celebrate even before you see any tangible signs of success. Think, feel and act as if the most wondrous blessings have already been showered upon you.

How does it look and feel when you really, truly believe in the inevitability of your success? Dance around your house with delight. Let tears of gratitude stream down your cheeks. Celebrate with passion and joy. The higher you take your vibration and emotions now, the faster your desires will be delivered. Once they do take physical form, be sure to celebrate and appreciate them fully.

Honour yourself as a powerful creator and a masterful receiver, and give thanks to the Universe. Continue to expand your desires and allow even more good to flow your way. Ride on the waves of your celebration and let your joy activate even more positive outcomes. This is a blessed time for you – filled with the energy of success.

Compassion

Be gentle with yourself.

Forgiveness will set you free.

See the light in yourself and others.

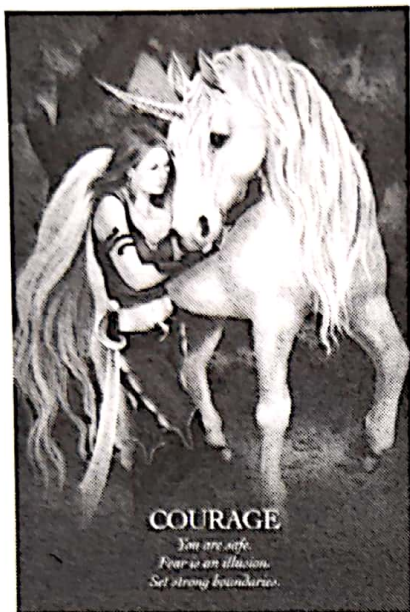

You are an old soul who has journeyed through many lifetimes and had many experiences. You learn more each time you incarnate and in each life you always do your best. It is easy to look around, compare yourself with others and feel that you are not good enough or not as far ahead as you could be.

Your life is not a race or a competition. It is a personal soul journey for you to take at your own pace and in your own way. So please, be gentle with yourself. See yourself through the eyes of the Divine, as a perfect, worthy being, and know that you are loved unconditionally, no matter what you have ever said or done. Set yourself free from the prison of guilt, shame and unworthiness you have locked yourself into by forgiving yourself.

Be conscious of the critical voice in your head and replace its judgements with thoughts of love. This compassion will lift you into higher energies, lighter emotions and a greater capacity to receive. The same is true for others in your life.

Be willing to release all of the resentment you carry and know that you only poison yourself by holding onto blame. Look for the light in everyone and know they are doing their best too. Let waves of divine compassion flow out from your heart to the world around you. Miracles happen when you live from this place of love and when you see the good in everyone and everything.

Courage

You are safe.

Fear is an illusion.

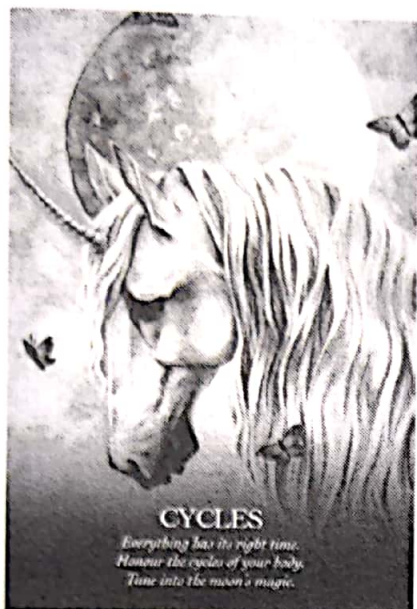

Set strong boundaries.

This situation requires you to respond from a place of love and courage, and to trust that you are safe – no matter what the outcome. Fear has been used to control you throughout lifetimes, to ensure that you never get too powerful. The media bombards us with stories that can lower our vibration and many of us, as children have been programmed to believe the world is unsafe. This unicorn and her guardian call on you now to rise into your power in order to shatter the illusions of fear.

When you remember who you are – an infinite, powerful being who can never truly be harmed – you become untouchable. Journey now, in the knowledge that the world you live in is loving and kind, that others can be trusted and that you are always protected. When you do this you are free to live with an unshakeable sense of security. You can pursue your dreams more fearlessly and take risks, knowing you can create the results you want and have no need to be afraid.

Call on the unicorns to walk every step of your path by your side. Listen as they remind you to be courageous, stand in your power and trust that you are safe.

Cycles

*Everything has its right time.
Honour the cycles of your body.
Tune into the moon's magic.*

If something feels like it is not happening, don't force it. Everything has its time. Everything has its place. This situation will naturally come to fruition when the time is right, whether it is a business project, a relationship, a journey, a contract or an opportunity.

This unicorn has come into your reading to remind you that we are connected with Mother Earth through the natural rhythm of cycles – the ebb and flow of the tides, the waxing and waning of the moon, and for women, the circle of ovulation and menstruation. Look at where you have fallen out of sync with these cycles and to start working with the moon's magic to bring more flow into your life.

Instead of always trying to push through life full steam ahead, allow yourself to rest, retreat and acknowledge your body's calls for gentleness. Then, when the moon waxes again or after menstruation, you can get out there again, and be proactive and more social.

There is so much magic for you to unlock in your life by honouring these cycles. Buy yourself a moon calendar or note down the different phases for each month. Live in the flow of cycles and you will experience the true magic of life.

Dance

Move your body to music.

Dance with the rhythm of life.

Manifest your dreams through dance.

Dancing will help you shake off any stuck energy that may be blocking a manifestation and help you speed up the delivery of your desires. Movement and music open your chakras, get your energy flowing and unleash the feel-good endorphins that help align you with more abundance.

Dancing can be used to shift you from doubt, worry, fear or anger into optimism, excitement and gratitude. Put on music to match the energy you need to shift and let your body guide the dance to find release.

Let go of any need to dance 'well' and find freedom in moving without inhibition. When you have shifted into a higher space, put on uplifting music and bring in your dreams with dance. Imagine yourself living the life you really want, then call it in with your body.

Beam powerful intentions out to the Universe while you are in this high-energy state, and let them be carried on the waves of joy radiating out from you. Make dancing a daily manifesting practise and you will soon enjoy the physical and energetic benefits that come with feeling good. This joyful unicorn tells you that your body wants to move and flow with music, and it is time to honour that desire.

Delight

Count your blessings and enjoy life.

Take pleasure in simple things.

Always expect the best.

This playful fairy pony has danced into your day to encourage you to glide through life on a slipstream of joy and to approach this situation with a sense of fun and play. She invites you to trust that all will be well and know that feelings of peace, joy and gratitude will help solve this issue in your life a lot faster than worrying about it will.

You may have been told that life is tough or learned that worrying is essential to solving problems. You may have been programmed that hard work alone leads to success or that it requires effort and sacrifice to earn money. But what if you could choose a new reality?

This fairy pony is reminding you that the Universe wants you to be happy and that when you whole-heartedly expect positive outcomes, you will receive them. Start today by slowing down and taking deliberate pleasure in even the simplest of things. Count your blessings and feel gratitude for everything you already have, no matter how small it may seem to you.

Let the sun warm your skin, enjoy the blue of the sky and the softness of the breeze. Sit under a tree, lie on the grass, stop to smell the flowers. Dance, laugh, love and play your way through life, and trust that the Universe will give you more reasons to be happy when you do so.

When you believe, feel and act as if all is well, and live in positive expectation, this situation will resolve easily. More blessings will flow to you and fill you with delight.

Discernment

*All is not what it seems.
Stay true to your knowing.
Keep your dreams a secret.*

Look closely at this situation before taking any further action or making a decision. An offer or proposal might seem tempting at first glance, but there is something going on under the surface. There is a hidden reason why it might not be the best choice at this time.

Someone may be withholding information from you or trying to distract you from an unattractive truth. Pause proceedings and dig deeper until you have the full picture. Regardless of what anyone else is telling you, use your discernment and trust your own knowing. If something feels a little off to you – even though there is no apparent reason for doubt – honour that feeling. Avoid making a decision that doesn't feel completely aligned for you and let go of any concern of missing out. If this is not the right opportunity, something much better will be on its way.

This unicorn and his maiden also urge you to keep your dreams a secret for now. You may be excited by a new idea, but while it is in the early stages of manifestation, it is better to keep it to yourself. Our seedling dreams are precious and it only takes criticism from just one person to diminish their magic.

Others may not share your belief that anything is possible, so for now, keep your plans and ideas close to your chest and only share them when they feel stronger.

Expansion

*Spread your wings and soar.
Share your message and shine your light.
Show the world what you're made of.*

You are brilliant, talented and it is now time to soar into your success. Your soul is calling you to share your message, shine your light and make a difference. Have the courage to do the things you are scared of. Stretch out of your comfort zone and into your potential.

Although you may feel some discomfort at first, you will soon feel like this Pegasus – flying out of the clouds and into brighter skies. Do not allow anyone or anything to clip your wings, keep you grounded or make you feel less than you really are.

Others may feel uncomfortable as you expand. They are just anxious you will leave them behind. Instead of shrinking yourself to appease their fears, stay true to your path and continue soaring higher and shining brighter. By doing this, you will show them how to do the same. It is up to them to have the courage to follow.

You came here for greatness and it is now time to show the world your magic.

Flow

Find an easier path forwards.

Surrender the outcome.

Release your expectations.

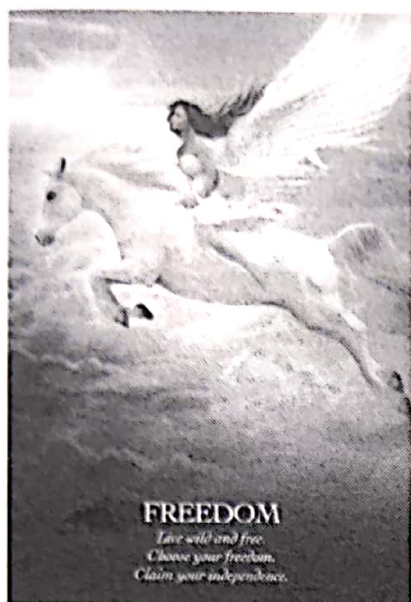

This card indicates that a strong attachment to one particular outcome in a situation is locking you into struggle. You cannot fight the tides that are flowing against you. They are stronger than you, and your efforts will leave you exhausted. You simply cannot do any more from a physical or mental level. Let go and let the Divine guide you through these currents instead of battling them by yourself.

These unicorns urge you to find a way to relax into your flow and be open to receiving a positive new outcome, especially one that you haven't yet considered. Hand this situation over to the infinite intelligence and trust that an easier way forward will be revealed at the right time. Until then, instead of trying to force your way through, relax, float, surf and play in the waves with these beautiful unicorns who understand how to dance with the ebb and flow of life.

The moment you let go, you will open space for miracles and an even better outcome than the one you thought had to happen. Magic is possible when you surrender and flow.

Freedom

Live wild and free.

Choose your freedom.

Claim your independence.

You are a free spirit with an infinite soul who cannot and should not be caged. It is time to forge your own path through life and create everything you want, regardless of how others think you should live.

You may have held back to please someone or to protect yourself from judgement. You may have put your dreams on hold, believing they are too wild and outrageous or that you don't deserve a life that magical. You may have been waiting for approval from someone who will never give it.

Now, your heart is calling you to freedom. It is time to create the reality that will light you up the most and allow you to be true to your soul. It is time to break the chains of limitation that delay your dreams and remember that anything is possible. It is time to stop caring what others may think of your life choices or how envious they may be of your freedom and do it anyway.

This beautiful, winged horse invites you to ride on her back, high above judgements and into the magic of infinite possibilities. She encourages you to fly free, to let your hair stream in the wind and to take pleasure in your new life. You are a free spirit. Soar into your wondrous life and never look back.

Friendship

*Seek out your soul family.
Surround yourself with positive people.
Spend more time socialising.*

This unicorn is calling you to surround yourself with positive people who love you, accept you and support your desire to grow. As you accelerate on your spiritual path, it is important that you are connected with like-hearted souls who share your vision for an abundant, happy life full of magic and possibility.

Laughter and fun within these friendships will help you to raise your vibration and attract positive encounters through your uplifted energy. At present, you may feel influenced or held back by friends or family who are stuck in their own judgements and limitations. See any patterns or wounds they are mirroring back to you as a gift. Be willing to do the inner work to overcome those patterns for yourself. Forgiveness will help you move forward faster than resentment, so bless them, forgive them, and then let them go.

If you release relationships, it may create a space in your life, and for a time, you may feel as if you are journeying alone whilst your new soul family finds you. Use this period to go within and deepen your love for yourself. Trust and know that you are worthy of a wonderful group of companions who support each other.

This card encourages you to follow your guidance to new places or attend events where you are likely to meet people from your soul group. Remember, they are looking for you just as you are for them. It will be a beautiful reunion when you recognise each other.

Gentleness

Be kind to yourself and others.

Honour your gentleness.

Speak words of love.

This card represents a sensitive, gentle soul with a deep connection to animals and the natural world. This is someone who tends to feel out of place in this noisy world of busy people. You may be feeling more overwhelmed than usual or find that you need to spend more time alone in quiet places.

The unicorns encourage you to honour your desire for peace and quiet, and know that gentleness is a sacred gift that needs to be nurtured and expressed more often. Sensitivity is an indicator of powerful intuitive and psychic abilities, and should be nurtured, not repressed.

You may feel uncomfortable about addressing a conflict, find yourself in a confronting situation or realise it is time to take a stand for yourself. Responding to a situation with kindness does not make you weak. Your softness comes from deep strength and immense courage within. Rather than shrinking away from a situation, or wondering if you should be stronger or louder, understand that you can make change in gentle, loving ways. Humanity needs the gentle souls to lead the way into a new reality, one in which kindness and compassion are upheld as the highest qualities.

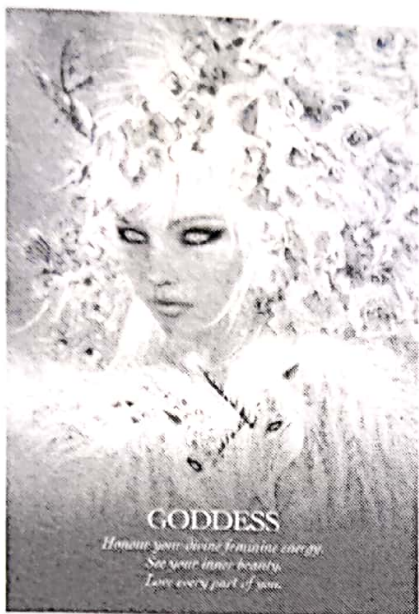

You can show the way by sharing your gentleness with others and demonstrating how to love and honour every living being. You can help others to see how kindness is a strength and encourage other sensitive souls to acknowledge their gifts.

This card may be calling you to conscious activism where you can make a stand for innocent animals in a loving yet powerful way. Be more willing to speak words of love and demonstrate acts of kindness.

Shine your beautiful, gentle light more brightly in the world.

Goddess

Honour your divine feminine energy.

See your inner beauty.

Love every part of you.

You are a goddess – a perfect aspect of the divine feminine embodied in human form. You are a miracle, gracing planet Earth with your beauty. You do not need shinier hair, whiter teeth or a slimmer figure in order to embody the Goddess. She is the infinite love you hold in your heart. She is the deep wisdom that flows from your soul. She is the light in your eyes and the warmth of your smile. She is the hands you use to heal and comfort. She is the pleasure your body is capable of experiencing through giving and receiving touch.

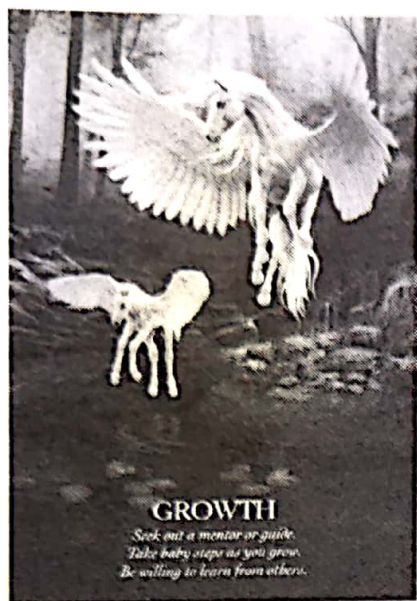

Your culture disempowers you by conditioning you to hate or even abuse your body, in order to sever your natural connection with the Goddess. The media sets impossible standards of beauty so you shrink into feelings of inferiority or insignificance.

This unicorn goddess urges you to rise up and reclaim your right to feel beautiful from within, exactly as you are. She tells you to turn your back on the pressure to look a certain way and cherish your miraculous body just as it is. Set your own standards of beauty, starting with the love, wisdom, compassion and radiance within you.

For men the message is the same – shun the pressure to look like a sculptured statue and focus on strengthening your heart.

Honour all of the parts of you that you may have disowned before and treat your body like the divine temple that it is. Walk with your head held high, your heart open wide and let the world see the goddess (or heart warrior) that walks before them.

Growth

*Seek out a mentor or guide.
Take baby steps as you grow.
Be willing to learn from others.*

This winged horse wants you to know that you're ready for your next stage of growth, and it is time to find someone who can guide you on your journey. Look for a mentor who has already walked the path you wish to take and can support your learning and expansion.

You may feel called to take on some new study or training in your field of expertise, or to embark on a new career altogether. You may feel guided to work more deeply on your spiritual growth and elevate to a higher vibration. Whatever your next level is, this patient winged horse invites you to take baby steps in your growth, just like her foal.

Be willing to make mistakes and know it's okay to be imperfect as you learn. You don't have to know everything at once and you will never know everything there is to know. Be open to receiving wisdom and guidance from someone with the experience or skills you seek. Let go of comparing your progress with anyone else. You are doing your best and that is plenty.

Enjoy the journey of being a student and take your growth at your own pace. Keep calling in the perfect mentors to take you to each new level and trust they will always appear when you are ready.

Healer

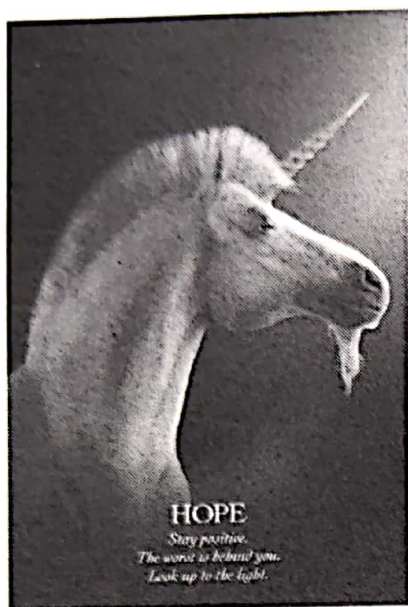

*You have powerful healing gifts.
Have faith in your abilities.
Stay true to your path as a healer.*

You are a gifted healer with powerful psychic or intuitive abilities. This card has come into your reading to encourage you to deepen your self-healing journey or to develop your gifts and take them to an even higher level.

It hasn't always felt safe to be magical and powerful. Your physical body and aspects of your soul may hold memories of being persecuted in past lives or of abusing your powers in Atlantis. These are examples of how influences from previous incarnations may cause you to doubt your gifts or shrink from your abilities. You may find it hard to talk about what you do or to 'own' your brilliance. You may struggle to put value on your services or charge for your gifts.

This magical unicorn encourages you to trust yourself, and stay true to your beliefs and your divine purpose. The magic you hold can make a great difference in the world when you trust yourself to use it for the greater good. Believe in yourself and your healing abilities. Go out there, shine your light and let your heart guide you to become the magnificent healer you came here to be.

Hope

Stay positive.

The worst is behind you.

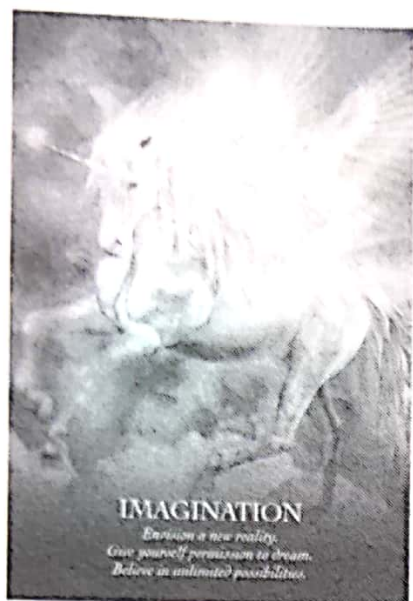

Look up to the light.

You have been through a challenging period but now the darkness is lifting and a new day is dawning. Fill your heart with hope, for the worst is now behind you and this turning point brings new possibilities for peace, happiness and prosperity.

If you have felt broken, you will return to wholeness. If your life has been chaos, order will soon be restored. If you have been in scarcity, abundance will begin to flow. If you have felt lost, you will find your way.

This unicorn brings the reassurance of a new beginning and the blessings that are to come. He asks you to focus purely on the outcome you want. Don't look back, only ahead to your new destination. Turn your face to the light and take one step at a time, knowing that with each stride, your life will be easier. Be patient on your journey and know the unicorns are by your side every step of the way.

Imagination

Envision a new reality.

Give yourself permission to dream.

Believe in unlimited possibilities.

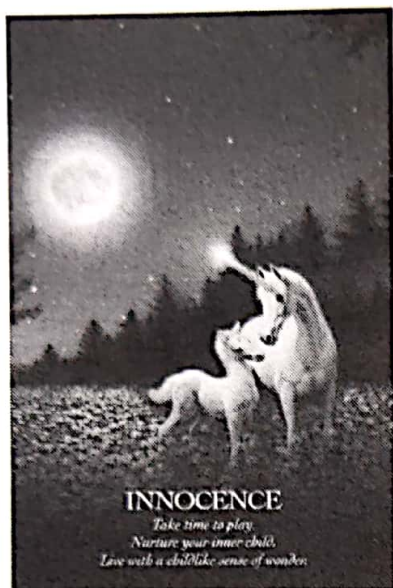

Your imagination was once wild, free and magical. Deep in your heart you believed that anything was possible. Then you grew older and were told to live in the 'real world'. You were told to take sensible action, to be responsible, and to learn facts and figures instead of dwelling in daydreams. You were led to believe that hard work was the only way to get results. This thinking cut you off from your magic and blocked you from using one of your most powerful manifesting tools.

Now the winged horses call on you to soar back into the realms of your imagination and to use daydreaming as a powerful way to create your reality. Return to your childlike mind that was full of wonder and to your belief in magic and miracles.

Instead of being limited by reason, allow yourself to fly high into possibility and believe you can be, do and have anything. If you can see it happening in your mind, it can become real in the physical. Spend time each day to powerfully dream of what you want. Let your imagination activate feelings of joy, delight, gratitude, amazement and surprise – as if your wildest dreams have already come true. Let those feelings flood your body and stream them back to the Universe. Give thanks in advance and surrender the 'how' to the Divine.

This card also encourages you to go even higher with your dreams and to trust they are closer than you think. Have patience and don't give up right before your vision manifests.

Innocence

Take time to play.

Nurture your inner child.

Live with a childlike sense of wonder.

Your inner child is the innocent aspect of yourself that still believes in magic and miracles without question. This inner child can be your greatest ally in creating your dreams, but only when he/she feels loved, safe and is given permission to play.

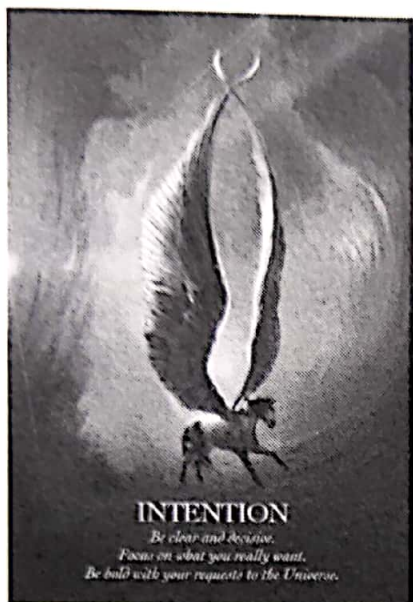

When your inner child is hurt, scared or neglected, he/she can create sabotage, procrastination or hold you back from achieving greater things in your life.

This gentle unicorn mother and her sweet baby encourage you to pay attention to the child within and give him/her plenty of love, healing and nurturing. Let them know it is safe to play. Put them in charge of engaging with the fun and magic in your life.

If you suffered childhood abuse, bullying or any other trauma, this card may be a message to seek out deep healing for those wounds, so you can move on with your life. It may also be a call to live in more innocence, by seeing the good in people and believing life is magical.

Call on the baby unicorns to help you honour and love your inner child, to reclaim your innocence and to spend more time living in wonder. Miracles will happen when you do.

Intention

Be clear and decisive.

Focus on what you really want.

Be bold with your requests to the Universe.

When you focus on what you want with laser-sharp clarity, you have the power to part seas and move mountains. What may now seem out of reach can come to you, if you believe in it with all of your heart, command it with clear intention, let the Universe find the best way to bring it to you, and then take courageous action as guided.

You may sense that your desires are being delayed or not arriving at all, because you are sending out a muddled or timid request. Perhaps you are not sending out any desires at all? You will create a default reality based on your old patterns and beliefs unless you use intention to manifest what you want. Avoid being trapped in the same dramas, the same experiences and the same disappointments by setting strong, new intentions now.

This glorious, winged horse urges you to remember that you are the powerful creator of your reality, whether you are doing so consciously or unconsciously. He urges you to use focused intention to command in your blessings and deliberately create a life that lights you up.

You are an infinite being, tapped into unlimited possibilities and you can choose and create your reality now. So, choose a life that astounds you with its magnificence. Stand in your power as a co-creator with the Divine and stay strong in your clear intention to live your highest life.

Intuition

*Listen to the whispers of your heart.
Use divination tools to help you decide.
Trust your intuition, no matter what.*

The answers you seek in this situation can best be found by turning within, asking for guidance from your heart or using a divination tool to access your inner wisdom. Do not rely on any outside source or your conscious mind to give you the information you really need.

Listen for that quiet whisper from within. Practise feeling the energy of your different options and choose the one which feels lightest. The more you tune in and listen, the more you will recognise the ways in which your inner guidance shows itself to you. It may feel like a soft, deep knowing or a light, loving energy.

It is important to trust that your higher self can see the bigger picture and knows exactly how to guide you – even if it doesn't make sense. The answer you get back may not be the easiest or the most logical, and your mind may try to rationalise a different option. Ask the unicorns to hold you in a clear space whilst you seek true guidance and have the faith and courage to follow it – no matter what.

Leadership

Step into your leadership.

Share your message.

Inspire and empower others.

The time has come for you to be the leader you came here to be and to make a stand for what you believe in. This situation or opportunity is calling on you to speak your truth powerfully. There are others who need to hear your message and they have been waiting for you to show them another way.

This unicorn urges you to rise up and be seen and heard. Do not be afraid of standing out. Dare to shine your light more brightly than ever and let your passion for making a difference be greater than any of your ego's insecurities.

Being a leader is not always the easiest path and it may require you to be courageous. Be assured that the Universe would not have put this opportunity in your path if you weren't ready. Ask the Divine to guide you as you speak out.

Rise up, leader of light. You came here for greatness, and it is your time to be seen.

Magic

Make a wish.

Believe in miracles.

Magic surrounds you.

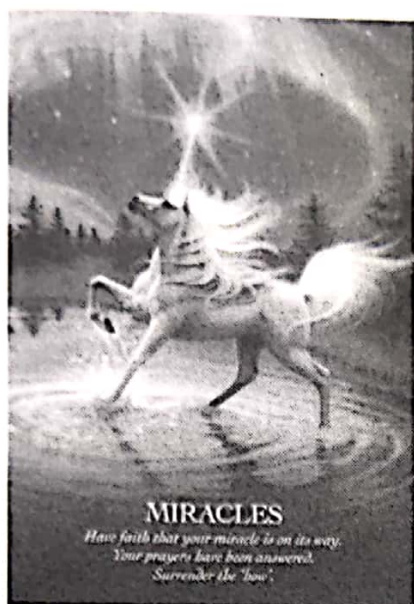

The unicorns and fairies have come together to remind you of your connection with magical beings. They invite you to ask for their combined support.

A situation in your life may need an extra dash of fairy dust and a beam of unicorn light to help it to resolve quickly and easily. Perhaps you have become lost in the outer world of logic and need to remember the power of magic and miracles that comes from within? Or, this may simply be a joyful invitation to make a wish and know that you are surrounded by magic at this time.

Call on the fairies and unicorns to remind you, to guide you and to help bring about an even higher outcome. Ask them to show you unmistakable signs that they are with you and spend time out in nature speaking with them. Call on them as a team, knowing that the lightness and fun of the fairies is the perfect complement to the loving energy of the unicorns.

They whisper in your ear: "Make a wish and believe it is already so. Believe in us. Believe in magic. Now and always."

Miracles

*Have faith that your miracle is on its way.
Your prayers have been answered.
Surrender the 'how'.*

Your prayers have been received and a miraculous outcome is already in motion. The unicorns invite you to relax, and have fun whilst you wait for your blessing to take physical form. They remind you that you are the miracle you seek, and everything you desire is already within you and one with you.

There is no desire too big or too wonderful for you to co-create with the Universe, and because the Divine operates outside of time, anything can happen in an instant when you let it. Make space for miracles by releasing the belief that anyone or anything in the physical world is the source of the good in your life. Instead place your full focus on the Divine as your infinite, unwavering, unlimited Source, and let the joy and gratitude of that truth open gateways of abundance.

The unicorns also remind you that the miracle you are asking for may not come in the form you expect it to. The answer to your prayers may come in a series of stepping stones, and some may not immediately make sense or seem related to your request. Stay open to your guidance, follow your intuition, take aligned action and surrender your expectations of what, how and when your miracle will arrive.

Let the Divine handle the details, and demonstrate to you that 'impossible' can actually be easy when you surrender, step aside and trust the magic of the Universe.

Nature

Ground yourself.

Find a sanctuary in nature.

Connect with the elementals.

Spend time out in nature before you make a decision or take your next steps in this situation. Either you need the clarity of mind that time in nature will bring or you need to release some stress and become more calm and grounded before moving forward.

The unicorns ask you to find a beautiful sanctuary where you can be surrounded by nature and breathe in pure air, relax and connect more deeply with your heart. Not only will this be soothing for your soul, it will help you listen to your inner wisdom and gain new perspective on this situation. Venture out into a meadow, a forest, a mountain or a beach where you can find peace and solitude. If you can, take off your shoes and go barefoot. Feel the soil or sand beneath you. Close your eyes and open all of your senses.

Feel the breeze brushing against your skin and the sun warming you. Listen to the sound of birds, waves or rustling leaves. Breathe in the scents of flowers, tree sap or salt air. Imagine your cares and worries melting away from you, as Mother Nature cradles you in her arms. Sink deeper into her presence, as you become more grounded.

Imagine yourself connected heart to heart with the earth and feel at one with all of the life around you, from the tiniest insects to the tallest trees. Call on the devas, unicorns and the other elementals in this place, including the fairies or mermaids. Set intentions for miracles, love and abundance, and ask for guidance to support you on your path.

Visualising your desires in nature can help them manifest faster, so take the time to sit, relax and imagine your dream life as if it's already happening. Give thanks when you leave and give back by doing something to take care of the earth by donating to an environmental non-profit, volunteering, buying eco products or recycling more.

Partnership

*Teamwork will give you a better result.
Find trustworthy people to partner with.
Build up a talented support team.*

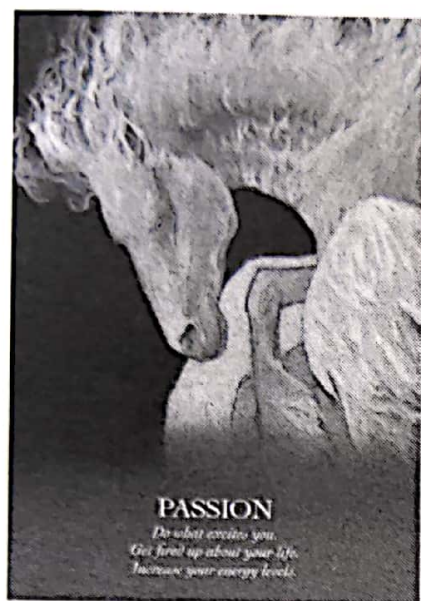

This card encourages you to reach out and connect with trustworthy people who can work with you or support you as you build your dreams. Trying to do everything yourself is holding you back and you could free up so much time and energy by getting help.

You could be stuck in a creative blind spot that someone with fresh eyes would easily see a solution to. Perhaps you are spending too much time cleaning and doing the laundry when you could be writing your book or launching your business.

You may be in need of a life coach, an angel investor, an assistant, a personal trainer, an accountant, a business partner, a nanny or even a cleaner. You know which area is draining your time and energy, so start making enquiries and look for someone who will love to help out or be hired by you.

When you do find possible candidates, be sure to trust your intuition on whom to take on. Ask for references and testimonials, but always go with your inner voice, and the person whose energy feels best. These unicorns know that partnerships make life more easy, fun and magical. Delegating the tasks that drain you will free you up to step further into your brilliance. It is your time to shine, but you need a team behind you in order to soar to your next level of success.

Passion

Do what excites you.

Get fired up about your life.

Increase your energy levels.

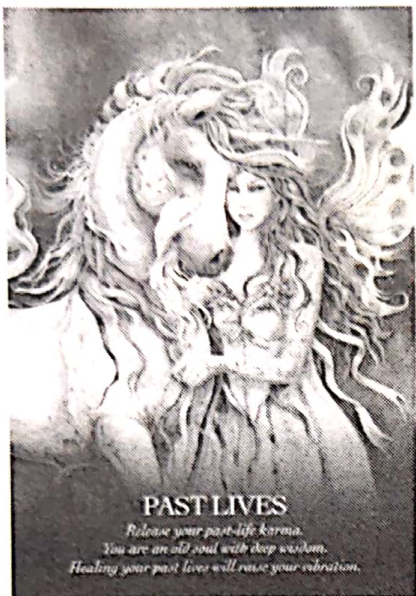

Life can be an exciting adventure if you want it to be. You never have to settle for less or accept feeling bored or unfulfilled. You can live a fraction of the possibilities that are available to you or you can open your arms wide and say, 'YES!' to life.

This fire unicorn is here to ignite the fires of passion in your heart and set your life ablaze with energy and enthusiasm. Do more of what lights you up and fearlessly pursue your passions in both your career and personal life. Have the courage to go travelling, change jobs or start your own business or non-profit association. Take a stand for what you believe in, speak out on issues you care about and get more involved in making a difference.

Get out into the world and laugh more, dance more, love more, live more. Leave 'fine' and 'normal' behind, and choose a new life of 'amazing' and 'fabulous'. Decide to play the game of life by your own rules, living boldly with a sparkle in your eye and fire in your heart.

This card can also be a call to increase your energy levels, so you naturally feel more alive. Clean up your diet, get more sleep, exercise regularly and nurture your body. When your energy levels are high, so too is your passion for life.

Past Lives

*Release your past-life karma.
You are an old soul with deep wisdom.
Healing your past lives will raise your vibration.*

You are an old soul who has journeyed through many different lifetimes and gained deep knowledge on your way. Your present situation requires you to either tap into your ancient wisdom for the answers or release a block that you've carried forward from another incarnation.

You may have some deep fear from a previous time that is being brought to the surface so it can be released for good. There may be people you still hold karmic agreements with. Clearing these agreements is now possible and this will allow you to move forward on your own path.

It may be time for you to remember the soul gifts that have been locked away and are now ready to be shared with the world. As an old soul, you have evolved over centuries. It is time for you to use your knowledge to awaken and ascend in this lifetime – and to help others do the same.

Spend some time sitting quietly in meditation, and ask this mystical unicorn to guide you back to the answers or the healing you need, or to help you unleash your hidden gifts. Your past lives hold treasures that can help you rise into your power and create the life of abundance, joy and freedom that you desire.

Patience

Pause before you take action.

Trust that divine timing is at work.

Be patient and play whilst you wait.

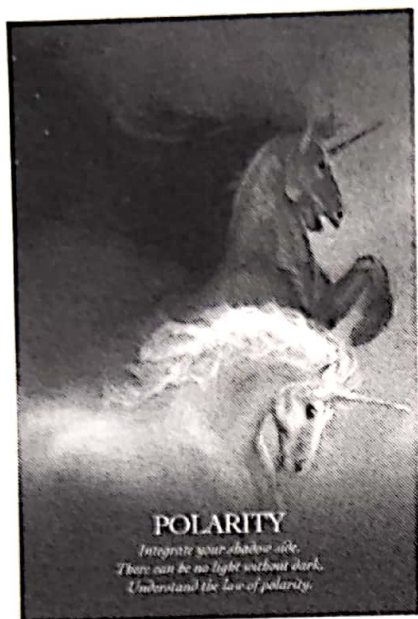

Now is not the time to charge ahead with this project or opportunity – no matter how excited you are, or how good it seems. The Divine is at work putting more pieces into place so that your next step can unfold.

You may be anxious that nothing is happening with this situation and wonder whether you should be doing more to make it happen. Rest assured, the opposite is true. You have done the work, you have set your intentions, you have made your requests to the Universe. There is something just around the corner that needs a little more time to materialise.

It is time to hold space so that your manifestation can occur. Let go of when or how that should happen. Release any concerns about missing out. You may not see any progress on the physical plane, but plenty is happening behind the scenes. Trust that whatever is coming will be in the perfect form and at the perfect time for you.

This gentle unicorn encourages you to relax into this period of waiting, knowing you will need your full energy when the time to act arrives.

Polarity

*Integrate your shadow side.
There can be no light without dark.
Understand the law of polarity.*

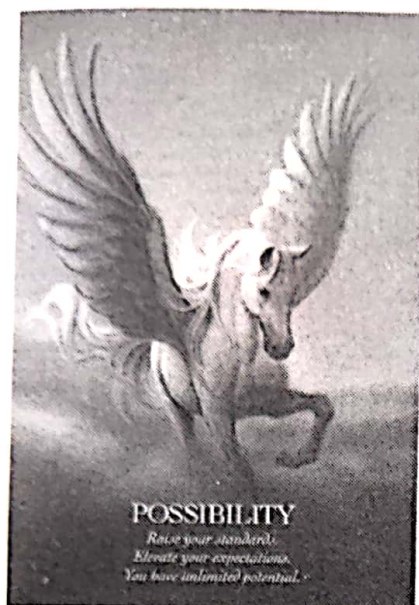

We have all played in the shadows and dabbled in darkness throughout different lifetimes. There is no judgement from the Divine on what you did or didn't do in this or any other incarnation. Source sees you as wholly loveable and worthy, even if you were a part of destruction or deception in other times. Only we hold ourselves in judgement and punish ourselves because we feel we are anything less than pure light.

These unicorns show you that there cannot be light without the dark. There cannot be day without the night – just as you could not have the capacity to hold the level of light that you do now, if you had not plunged deep into the darkness before. You would not appreciate the good things you have now, if you had not experienced their opposite. This polarity serves you beautifully.

Rather than trying to disown your shadow side, be proud of it. Own it and integrate it. When you do this, it can no longer hold power over you and you can start to love and accept every part of yourself. Doing this brings you true freedom. Freedom from the penance you believe you have to pay for being less than pure. Freedom from the lie of original sin that has shackled humanity for centuries. Freedom from unworthiness and from feeling less than others.

You are perfect, just as you are – with your light and your dark.

Possibility

Raise your standards.

Elevate your expectations.

You have unlimited potential.

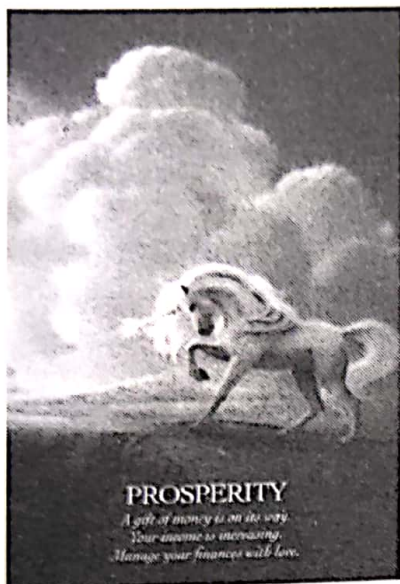

This magnificent winged horse encourages you to hold a bigger vision for this situation and for every aspect of your life. She dares you to elevate your thoughts, feelings and energy to a much higher level, and take your dreams beyond anything you have imagined before. Be willing to focus only on the highest outcome, know that you deserve the best and get excited about the new possibilities available to you.

This card is a reminder to catch yourself when you think small about yourself or your life, and to trust there is so much more available to you. If you knew any outcome was possible, what would you choose? How would you like a certain situation to unfold? What results would light you up? What life do you truly desire?

Let your imagination soar like this radiant winged horse and take your expectations higher and higher. If any doubt comes up during your day, ask yourself: "Does this brighter possibility exist in the field of infinite possibilities?" Of course, the answer is yes... as well as something even better. Use this truth to deepen your faith in miracles and expect blessings beyond your wildest dreams.

Prosperity

A gift of money is on its way.

Your income is increasing.

Manage your finances with love.

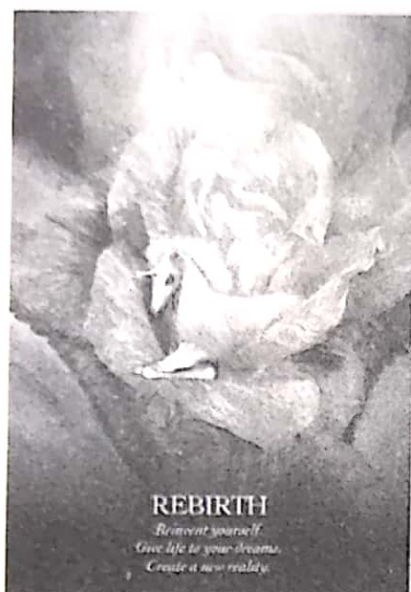

This unicorn brings news of a financial blessing. A period of good fortune is opening up for you. If your flow of money has felt blocked recently, this is a sign that abundance is returning to your life. If you have been working towards an increase in your income, it's a sign that your breakthrough will be happening soon.

Let go of any worry or impatience, as this will only slow down your supply. Instead, imagine the money you desire is already in your bank account and feel the way you would if you already had plenty to spend, save and share. Let yourself feel relaxed, relieved, happy, grateful and excited, regardless of the numbers in front of you. Trust that these good feelings and positive expectations will help activate your prosperity more than any fear will.

As you focus on your new financial reality, follow your guidance on taking action, whether it's organising your accounts, asking for a raise or creating a new product in your business. Work on clearing any limiting blocks or beliefs about wealth, so you can create a clear channel through which funds can manifest.

The Divine is your source of financial prosperity. It is time for you to open up your flow and receive.

Rebirth

*Reinvent yourself.
Give life to your dreams.
Create a new reality.*

Are you willing to let go of everything you are not, in order to become who you really are?

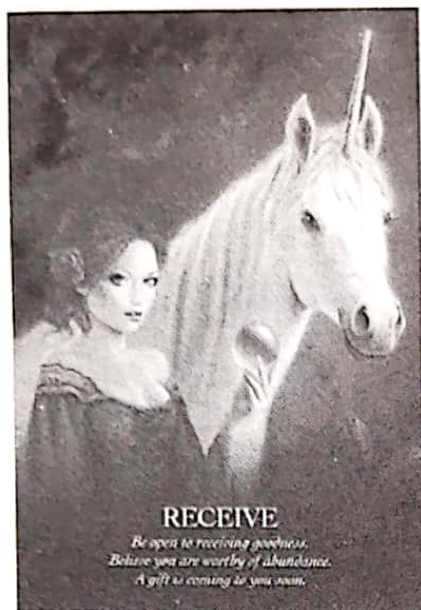

This winged unicorn urges you to shed the false identities your ego has trapped you in so as you can emerge as the true, divine you.

It is your time to blossom and let the world see your inner beauty, like the unfurling petals of a radiant rose. Your soul is calling for this reinvention by surrendering your old stories and changing your perception of yourself. Deep down you know who you truly are and the potential you hold.

It is time to release anything that is not in alignment with your truth. Let your old life crumble and fade to make space for you to powerfully create a new reality of your choosing. You no longer have to be the person others want you to be. You no longer have to limit your life to what you feel is reasonable or possible.

You can more easily create your bigger dreams, once you embody your true self. The winged unicorns will help you when your ego fights and resists this change. They will hold you in love as you undergo a beautiful metamorphosis into your most magnificent self.

Receive

Be open to receiving goodness.

Believe you are worthy of abundance.

A gift is coming to you soon.

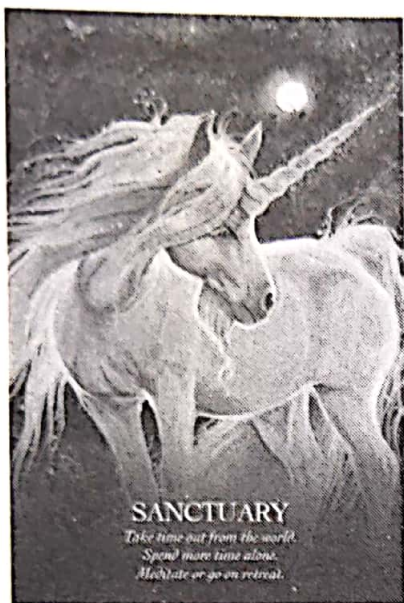

The key to unlocking your greatest abundance is your ability to receive. The greater your sense of worthiness, the greater your capacity to accept the gifts and blessings the Universe wishes to give you.

There are many gifts waiting to come to you right now, but any guilt, shame or unworthiness in your system will act like a force field and repel your prosperity. Yes, it is good practice to think positively, be grateful, send out desires to the Universe and say affirmations. However, these tools can only be effective if they are supported by the strong sense that you deserve the good you are asking for.

This enchantress and her unicorn hold up a crystal sphere containing all of your heart's desires. They are telling you that all of these gifts can come flowing into your reality when you heal inner wounds and release limiting beliefs that block your ability to receive. They invite you to see yourself through the eyes of the Divine as a loveable, worthy being, and in doing so to open your floodgates of abundance.

There are gifts and blessings beyond your wildest dreams just waiting to surprise and delight you. There is nothing special you need to do in order to be worthy of them except to believe that you are.

Sanctuary

Take time out from the world.

Spend more time alone.

Meditate or go on retreat.

Your soul is craving time away from the noise and distraction of this busy world, so you can hear your inner guidance and feel at peace. This wise unicorn is telling you it is time to withdraw.

This could mean spending more time in meditation each morning to set positive energies for your day. It may mean going on a silent retreat or finding a quiet place in nature for a day or weekend. It could be that you need to spend less time socialising and more time listening to the whispers of your heart. You may have just ended a relationship and rather than rushing out to find a new partner, you are being invited to be single for a while.

Your conscious mind wants you to do things and be with people, so it can stay busy and feel safe. It will try to convince you that you are missing out or you won't get things done. However, there is magic in silence and solitude. It gives you space to slow down, reconnect, breathe deeply and get grounded.

Sanctuary helps you gain clarity on what your next steps are, beyond everyone else's opinions of what you should be doing. It can connect you with divine guidance and help you receive inspired ideas that will help you move forward. Take time out to create this sanctuary around you and enjoy a period of peace and quiet.

Strength

*This challenge will make you stronger.
You will get through to the other side.
Look for the gifts in this situation.*

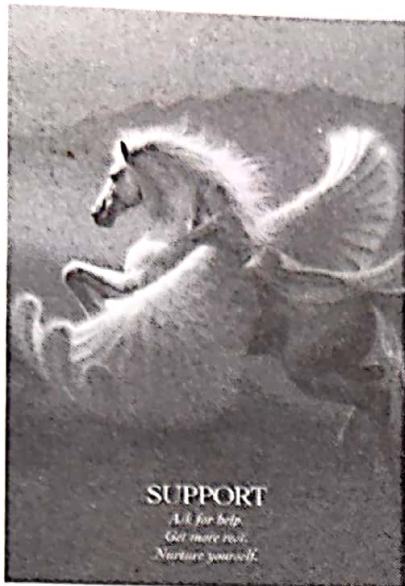

When pressure is applied to coal it transforms into glittering diamonds. We are similarly tested at points on our soul journey so our hearts can let in more love, our wisdom can deepen and we can rise higher into our light.

You may be facing a challenge, be grieving for a loved one or have had your heart broken. You may be feeling scared and alone. Call on the unicorns to hold you, love you and support you. Let them carry you on their backs as you go through this deep initiation.

Let yourself grieve or feel vulnerable for as long as you need to in order to fully heal. Know that you do have the strength to come through on the other side and you will. You have been through many trials in many lifetimes – and you have prevailed through all of them.

When you are ready, look for the hidden gift in this experience and the reason your soul called it in for you at this time. Know that just like that piece of coal, you will emerge from this experience glittering and bright, like a diamond.

Support

Ask for help.

Get more rest.

Nurture yourself.

Feeling tired, burnt out, overwhelmed or overworked is a call to lighten your load and recharge your batteries. Your energy levels are low and it is proving counter-productive to getting things done or being there for others.

You may feel you have to do everything yourself or don't know who to ask for help. A part of you could be addicted to the adrenaline rush of stress and hustle. You may even feel it is a sign of weakness to slow down or that you don't deserve to be nurtured.

You have nothing to prove by working yourself too hard or sacrificing yourself by doing everything alone.

This winged horse urges you to ask for help, to get more rest and to be loving to your body. Schedule in non-negotiable time for naps, set boundaries around your work hours and make getting a good night's sleep a priority. Hire an assistant or other team members for your business. Spend the day at a spa, book in for a massage or other body treatment, or simply take a day off to do nothing. Ask your friends and family for help with your kids or invest in additional childcare or a nanny.

You are worthy of this support. The extra energy you will have as a result will be worth the time and money you spend to give it to yourself.

Trust

*Leap into the unknown.
Have faith and move forward.
Believe you will fly.*

Your soul is calling on you to take a courageous leap of faith and launch into the unknown. You know deep down that you cannot stay where you are, doing the same things in the same way any longer. You know it is time for change. It is time to get out of your comfort zone, to expand and to explore. Yet, a part of you is hesitating.

You feel as if you are at the edge of a cliff, not fully believing that when you take the leap, your wings will appear and you will soar. You may be putting off what you know you need to do. You may be avoiding things that scare you and making excuses to stay in your comfort zone.

This winged horse wants you to know that she is here to support you and it is safe for you to make this change. She reminds you that you have free will and can make this choice. You can give in to fear, stay where you are and never find out what else is out there for you or you can have the courage and faith to take a risk. It is time to choose your dreams.

Allow yourself to get excited about leaping into the unknown. Let go of control and choose a life of surprise. It is time to throw caution to the wind, be courageous and trust. When you are brave and take a leap, your wings will appear and you will soar.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Cordelia Francesca Brabbs is a Magical Mentor for conscious and creative people who want to see what's really possible when they unlock their gifts and live from their magic.

Cordelia works mainly with the Diamond Light, pure Source energy that helps people release core wounds, patterns and energetic contracts that limit them. During these sessions she helps people get rewired and recoded on a cellular, DNA and genetic level to fulfil their divine potential and realign to their true state of abundance and joy.

For as long as she can remember, Cordelia has believed in the magical realms and felt a close connection with the unicorns, fairies, mermaids and dragons. She grew up in the countryside in the North of England, and would often be found reading Enid Blyton's magical books, perched in the branches of an apple tree, dreaming of adventures to magical lands.

After going through a dark night of the soul in her late teens and early twenties, Cordelia's spiritual awakening in 2001 led her to train in various healing, manifesting and coaching modalities (including Unicorn Light healing). She discovered her natural gift for working with energy, holding space for vibrational upgrades, receiving intuitive insights, and seeing people's soul essence.

She soon became the author of Goddess Power Pack, and spent nine months living in Avalon, serving as a Melissa in the Glastonbury Goddess Temple, and holding retreats for women and teens. In 2010 Cordelia's love of whales and dolphins led her to co-found Women for Whales, a conscious collective designed to peacefully raise awareness for cetacean protection. Since 2011 she has run her online classes and client retreats from beautiful locations around the world, travelling to wherever her soul calls her to be. Her recent destinations include Hawaii, French Polynesia, France, Italy and Avalon.

ABOUT THE ARTISTS

Kirk Reinert

American artist, Kirk Reinert, discovered that drawing was a natural talent at a very early age having been introduced to art by his grandfather, a sports cartoonist, and his uncle, an animator. Originally specializing in book cover designs, Kirk became a leading illustrator in the genres of fantasy, horror, and science fiction, winning many awards including "Cover Artist of the Year" for his Creepy and Eerie magazine covers. He has since worked with rock groups such as 'KISS', and in toy & packaging design for Hasbro.

For the last 18 years, Kirk has concentrated primarily on painting fine art pieces, mostly acrylic paint on board, which have shown in galleries across the USA and in Japan. Kirk's gifted sense of light, color, and form gives him a special talent for putting life into everything he paints and creating a truly believable experience that touches the imagination of the viewer and brings a feeling of magic to his work. In addition, many of Kirk's paintings have been reproduced as limited edition fine art prints.

Carol Cavalaris

I am a believer in the power of beauty, nature, and animals to heal our bodies, hearts, and spirits, if one is open to their message. I've been an artist my entire life, always creating something. Painting wildlife and nature, color and detail, are my passions. I see the uniqueness in every living being as a momentary gift to be treasured. And so it is this need to capture the life force, to enhance and celebrate it, and even give it life long after it has faded, that gives meaning to my work.

My art is in private collections all over the world, and has been published in magazines, book covers, as well as art books. I also exhibit in several Colorado galleries. My work is licensed by various companies and selling on products worldwide. I am also a collectible artist with The Bradford Exchange. My gallery, which includes healing, fantasy, florals and wildlife art, can be viewed online at: <http://carol-cavalaris.artistwebsites.com>

Selina Fenech

During her life, Selina has found ancient Roman treasure, survived cancer, had knights joust at her wedding, been mugged for doughnuts, made a living as an artist, and created new worlds in her novels. Born in 1981 to Australian and Maltese parents, Selina lives near Sydney with her family.

Deborah Lewis

Deborah Lewis aka 'Hagge' is Alaska born and raised. Nature, and the appreciation thereof, has always been an inspiration for her for as long as she can remember, and has provided most of the grist for her artistic mill. Artist, and writer, she continues to create art via the mediums of acrylic, gouache, watercolor, as well as digitally, and portrays everything from landscapes, to portraits, in a scope that covers real life to fantasy. She looks forward to continuing and maintaining creations thereof, to her heart's content.

Jody Bergsma

Jody has a diverse painting style that has developed over many years and literally thousands of paintings. Her earliest works were charming children's illustrations that she sold at art shows to pay for her education. Jody's watercolor technique is self-taught. Her engineering degree is reflected in her compositions and demonstrates Jody's love of mathematics and geometry. She seamlessly blends these elements with her imaginative inner visions to create her unique style. Jody believes that art is a tradition that helps define who we are and brings us a vision of who we can become. Her painting is an expression and request for a more beautiful, peaceful and harmonious world.

Dawn Holliday

I am an artist and illustrator from England. Unicorns showed up in my art at the age of 15 along with other magical creatures. This was around the time I was having my own personal awakening! I became self-employed at age 19 and have since worked on many exciting projects, from the fashion industry to magazines. My main sources of inspiration are the many mysteries of our Universe and life on Earth. My mission is to inspire, bring light, hope, beauty, truth and empowerment.

Elena Dudina

I was born in Russia. My father was a fighter pilot in the military. So, as you can imagine, we moved around a lot. I spent my childhood and youth moving from one location to another – from Estonia to Latvia, even to the Arctic and to the Ukraine, as well as spending seven years in Siberia. I have been living in Madrid, Spain since 2002. My husband is Spanish and I love this country too.

I have always drawn and painted, since I was a young child. I had that gift. In 2004 I started to experiment with sculpture until I discovered Photoshop. Since then, I've been working exclusively in that field. This just about sums up everything I have done to date! Photo-manipulation is my passion, but it's also my work!

Herb Leonhard

Herb Leonhard was born in Munich, Germany and grew up in the United States. One of his earliest memories was of a series of German children's books beautifully illustrated by Fritz Baumgarten. This, along with a childhood spent within the pages of comics, inevitably led to a career as an artist with a love of many of the classic illustrators, both traditional and contemporary.

Herb has been a professional illustrator and graphic designer for over 30 years and has illustrated over 30 books, earning him numerous awards and international acclaim. His clients include singer Tori Amos, Pelican Publishing, Raven Publishing and Steiner Korea Publishing.

He lives in the American Pacific Northwest with his wife, son, two horses, four cats and a plethora of chickens.

Anastasia Korochanskaja

Anastasia Korochanskaja is a freelance illustrator specializing in fantasy wildlife and animal artwork. Her work explores the interconnectedness of the animal kingdom and, at its heart, aims to blur the gulf human society has imposed between humans and other animals. That we are more alike than different is a prevailing theme in Anastasia's work which also welcomes cosmic symbols and fantasy interpretations of animals to paint vivid emotionally-charged images. It is her sincere hope for the viewer to find oneself in the gazes of her enigmatic animal subjects.

Drazenka Kimpel

Drazenka Kimpel is an awarded, licensed digital illustrator who has worked on projects for a variety of gaming, comic and publishing companies around the world, as well as corporate and private clients.

Her work has been featured in international publications such as Expose, Exotique, D'artiste, Digital Art Masters, ImagineFX Magazine, Layers Magazine, Digital Art Magazine and many websites and online forums.

Drazenka is completely self-taught in design and illustration. Her style of painting is greatly influenced by the Neoclassical and Pre-Raphaelite masters, through their use of color and narrative surroundings. She is highly fond of fantasy as a base for her subject matter, which gives her essential freedom to depict her own style of unknown visions, with romantic undertones and human interaction.

Alexandra Birchmore

Alexandra Birchmore is a full-time digital media illustrator from Gloucestershire, UK. She uses all mediums from oil paints to computer-generated imagery; whichever best suits the purpose of bringing to life a vision. She has always had a particular passion for the form and grace of horses so will use them as the subject point for illustrations any time she has the opportunity! She currently works mainly with digital illustration in a commercial setting, but is moving slowly towards a more concept art-based role.

Rachel Anderson

Rachel Anderson is known for her colorful and intricately detailed paintings of fairies, mermaids, unicorns, and other creatures of fantasy realms. She has always been fascinated with the spiritual realm – what it might look like if we could see it and so forth – and this influences her art a great deal. She loves nature, and all the beauty that lives within it. The idea that there is an unseen world of magical creatures that are interconnected with nature and that suffer if we harm nature is very inspirational to her work. Rachel hopes her artwork can put some joy and magic back into our world. Her artwork has been licensed for a variety of products and collectables sold worldwide.

Renáta Szentirmai

I am a freelance graphic designer and I live in Hungary. I was born in Debrecen. Since my childhood, I've always been into drawing; at first tales, then the world of fantasy caught my attention. I undertook a Master's degree in Drawing at the Teacher's Training College in Eger, Hungary. For a couple of years, I did classical oil paintings, before discovering the air brush technique, which I used in my first illustrations. But I found my true passion in digital painting, and I have been making my artwork in that medium for the last few years. I illustrate stories, picture books, collectible card games and board games.

Myths & Mermaids

Oracle of the Water

Jasmine Becket-Griffith
with Amber Logan & Kachina Mickleitto

The mystical element of water is both bringer of life and bearer of death, the herald of hope and the harbinger of destruction. It is in our nature to seek to understand it, to conquer it, and to sip its mysterious powers.

Who better, then, to ask for guidance and inspiration than the spirits of water themselves, the Water Fae? Mermaids, sprites, nymphs, and more — their wisdom and insight have been collected within this oracle to help us comprehend and embrace the enigmatic dichotomy that is water.

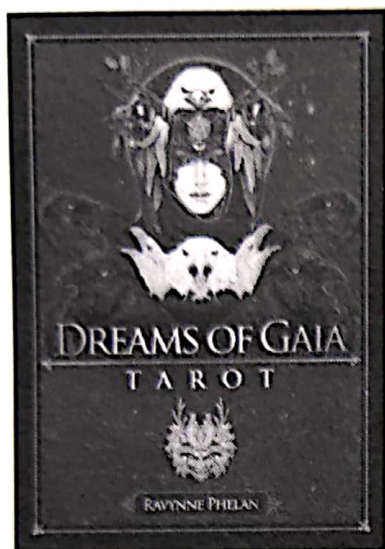

Myths & Mermaids features the artwork of world-renowned artist Jasmine Becket-Griffith, paired with a guidebook channelling the wisdom, advice, and poignant poetry of Jasmine's two sisters, Amber Logan and Kachina Mickleitto. Embrace the duality that is the element of water and prepare to plumb the depths of the unknown with guidance from the Water Fae!

Dreams of Gaia Tarot

Ravynne Phelan

The philosophy of the Dreams of Gaia Tarot is simple: to seek, to feel, to grow, to heal. This deck will strengthen your connection to your divine self, whilst helping you to identify and heal past experiences that hold you back from living to your fullest potential.

Learn to recognise when times of growth and change are approaching, and face them with confidence and a sense of anticipation. Learn when to take action, and when to be still. Learn to trust in your intuition.

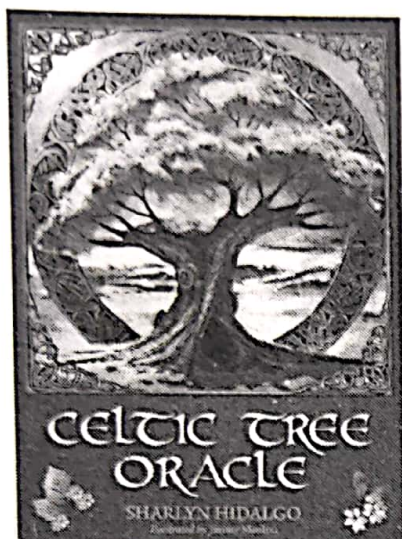

By offering structure in the form of a major and minor arcana like that of past tarots, but combining them with bold new archetypes, symbology, and meanings more suited to the present, the Dreams of Gaia Tarot allows for a more personal, intimate, and effective system for using cards as a roadmap to navigate your life path. Embark on this extraordinary journey of undoing, of being, and becoming, and be inspired by the knowledge that all that manifests in your future is born of choices you make today.

ISBN: 978-1-922161-95-6

This deluxe set, the culmination of almost a decade of work, features 81 cards with gold gilded edges and 308-page guidebook, packaged in a large hardcover box. Box size: 18.5cm x 14cm. Box and guidebook cover also feature stamped, gold-foil lettering.
